Additional Backup Information:

This contract is for the ongoing purchase, support, repair, and preventative maintenance of staging equipment for events hosted by the Austin Convention Center. The equipment enables the Austin Convention Center to continue providing customers with high-quality staging equipment and services that meet the safety standards required by the Austin Convention Center. The StageRight system is based on a proprietary design of interchangeable staging equipment that can only be used with StageRight-manufactured equipment.

StageRight Corp is the sole manufacturer and distributor of its proprietary staging products and maintenance and repair services. The contract replaces a contract expiring on June 19, 2026. The requested authorization is based on historical spending and departmental estimates of future needs. The recommended contractor is the current provider of these goods and services.

If this contract is not approved, the City may not be able to replace and maintain its StageRight equipment, leading to potential equipment failure.
